

SYUHEI HASADO

October 30th & November 26, 2013
LaGuardia Community College, CUNY

From plastering modern construction and private residences to traditional Japanese storehouses and tea houses along with a five star hotel's entrance lobby, Syuhei showcased his individual, unique and original way of modern plastering with natural earth and materials. No such work has existed in the past, which has allowed him to expand all over Japan. Syuhei's new techniques, creative spaces and art made out of only natural materials have broadened his range of work to include art exhibitions.

LaGuardia Community College will host a seminar and a workshop by Mr. Syuhei Hasado, who has been appointed as a Japan Cultural Envoy by the Agency of Cultural Affairs of Japan for 2013-2014. The seminar/workshop focus on his techniques incorporating traditional plastering and contemporary art. The workshop will be held on Wednesday, October 30, 2013 (open to public, 1:00pm-3:00pm @ E-242, reservation required) and the seminar will be on Tuesday, November 26 (open only to LaGuardia students, 2:15pm-5:35pm @ M-156). Please see <http://bit.ly/hasadows> for the photos of his previous workshops.
